Ken Osthimer

Ken Osthimer began photographing in 1975 while in college. After graduating in 1980 he attended a Masters workshop with Oliver Gagliani. As long as he can remember he has been interested in the "nature" of things and is continually amazed at the diversity and tenacity of life in its simple, graceful beauty. Ken uses the platinum process for producing his prints. This process is what creates the great depth of the tones and shadows in the final print.
