ABOUT ALLIED ARTS of WHATCOM COUNTY

In Whatcom County, beauty surrounds you. Our local artists, makers and musicians draw inspiration from the diverse and beautiful vistas, forests, farmland, rivers and bays to create distinctive art with a particular point of view. For over 35 years, Allied Arts of Whatcom County has been a major force in the Whatcom County arts scene, cultivating and nourishing the cultural health and vitality of the community through events involving visual and performing arts. We serve more than 50,000 people annually by fostering and sponsoring events, exhibits, and programs focused on local arts. In addition, we provide extensive arts education in the local schools.

OUR PROGRAMS INCLUDE
Monthly Art Exhibits New exhibits open the First Friday of every month in our Gallery.
Annual Spring Membership Show Any Allied Arts Member can contribute artwork for this eclectic show.
RARE Recycled Arts Resource Expo Items rescued from the waste stream are made into beautiful things and exhibited throughout the month of April.
Children’s Art Walk In May, local businesses display art made by the next generation of artists — our kids!
Whatcom Cultural Arts Festival Outdoor festival in Historic Fairhaven recognizing our diverse community in mid-June.
Bellingham SeaFeast Festival Celebrating Bellingham's working waterfront. Come down for great food and art.
Holiday Festival of the Arts One stop holiday shop for local art. Mid-November through Christmas Eve.

Discover Art Adventures

Downtown Bellingham Shuffle

Start at the Allied Arts Gallery to see the local art on display. There’s a new show every month. Amble over to the Dakota Art Gallery, go see oil paintings at the Sharon Kingston Gallery, traditional and contemporary art at Gallery Pegasus, and fine and glass art at Wandering Oaks Gallery. Go to the Ruckus Gallery for art with modern organic appeal. Need to frame some new art? Go to Fourth Corner Frames and Gallery. They’ll take good care of you. Take a break. Refresh yourself with food and drink at Boundary Bay Brewery or Aslan Brewing Co. If you have a few too many and you end up at Old School Tattoo that’s on you. Still going? See an evening performance at Mount Baker Theatre, enjoy some improv at the Upfront, or catch a movie at the Pickford or Limelight.

Lynden Ramble

Take the Guide Meridian north to Lynden. On the way, stop at Bellewood Acres for the farm market and country café. Continue north to Lynden and the Jansen Art Center. Check out the exhibits and maybe sign up for a class. Go antiquing along Front Street and then stop in to the new Village Books. On your way back wave at some cows, and stop in at Baker Creek Studios for ceramic art, Morrison Glass Art for blown glass sculptures large and small, or go see the Galleries and Outdoor Sculpture Collection at Western Washington University for more inspiration.

Fairhaven Stroll

Step back in time and visit the Historic Fairhaven District. Investgate the Cooper Lanza Gallery, visit Nancy Canyon Fine Art or check out the Whatcom Art Market. Go to Whimsey for jewelry and Good Earth Pottery for ceramics. Visit Village Books. This could take a while. After your book fix, check out Current and Furbish for art by Scott Ward, and the Peter James Photo Gallery to see stunning landscape photos of the PNW before strolling down to the Bellingham Cruise Terminal to enjoy the sunset.

Family Adventure Day

Play and learn at the Whatcom Museum Family Interactive Gallery (FIG), then enjoy the current show at the Whatcom Museum galleries. Now make your own museum exhibit! Go to the Bellingham Public Library to find some ideas and then shop for art supplies. Go to Dakota Arts for fine art supplies, Raffinery for textiles, the RE-Store for salvaged building materials and the Allied Arts Thrift Store to see what we have this week.

Art Enrichment: Take a class!

Stop by Make.Shift Art Space. Tap into your creative side and make something beautiful. Maybe drawing or painting is more your thing; take a class at BellinghamArt or Pace Atelier. They offer art classes for youth and adults year-round. Want to use torches and hammers? Bellingham Metal Arts Guild offers metal arts classes of all types. Maybe your kids want to be on stage. Sign them up for a class at BAAY (Bellingham Art Academy for Youth).
