New Leadership at BellinghamART

My daughter, Emily has decided to take over the school as I focus energy toward my landscape painting. She will be taking over at the beginning of September. I will be lending a hand throughout the transition as she learns the ropes.

Emily was very involved in the school in it's early years. Over the school's 20 years Emily taught classes, helped in the classroom, and created lesson plans and project ideas. She will bring a youthful energy and fresh approach to the school. With a degree in illustration and graphic design from IDEA School of Design at Capilano University, and years of freelance art and design, a passion for children and art education, and a wealth of ideas and energy, BellinghamART will be in very good hands.

As for me, I'll be right next door in my painting studio at the end of the hall. I will of course miss the school, and I am leaving the door open for teaching classes at BellinghamART.

Thank you for all of your support,
Lynn and Emily Zimmerman

Announcing BAAY's 2020 summer season, COVID edition! Our staff has pulled out all the stops to come up with a raft of creative courses to stretch your imaginative horizons, expand your expressive potential, and learn some cool new skills. It won't be business as usual — social distancing requirements mean we've shifted our focus to smaller class sizes and content that can be adapted for online instruction as necessary. We have lots of options, so you can sign up for multiple classes and spend more of your summer with friends at BAAY!

All classes will be conducted via Zoom during Phase 2 of COVID-19 restrictions. In-person instruction will begin when Whatcom County is approved for Phase 3 of the Safe Start Washington protocol. Our first priority is for the health and safety of our students and staff. We will enforce strict standards of hygiene and social distancing when we are finally able to be together again.

We hope you'll bear with this rather sparse newsletter! While being closed down we've been busy moving our databases to a new program and this is the first test run of our new system. We promise it will get jazzier as we learn how to use the software!
